Hello!

My name is Tram (/trum/) Tran and I am a graphic and interactive designer. I specialize in Brand Identity, Web Design, User Interface and User Experience, but I can tackle any design challenges that you have for me! I pride myself in working responsibly, effectively and always listening to your designs need.

This portfolio book is a collection of my work. Thank you for reading and I hope you enjoy each work as much as I enjoyed creating them.

The Paddy Field

Brand Identity- Web Design

ABOUT

The Paddy Field is a refreshing addition to Jupiter, Florida's culinary scene, with a contemporary take on traditional Vietnamese cuisine. Unlike most formal Vietnamese restaurants, The Paddy Field offers a fast-casual dining experience that caters to busy young adults. The team is committed to using only the freshest and most wholesome ingredients, drawing inspiration from the vibrant streets of Saigon to bring authentic Vietnamese flavors to the table.

As a young Vietnamese designer, I was honored to take on this project and bring the client's vision to life. With a deep understanding of the nuances of Vietnamese culture and cuisine, I was dedicated to infusing The Paddy Field with an authentic yet contemporary feel. Every detail was carefully crafted to embody the restaurant's core values of freshness, quality, and simplicity. It was an exciting and rewarding experience to contribute to such a unique and innovative culinary venture.

AUDIENCE

The target market for The Paddy Field is energetic and outgoing young adults. They fall within the age range of 18-35 and earn a minimum of $50k annually. These individuals reside in suburban and metropolitan areas and are interested in connecting with Vietnamese culture and traditions through cuisine. They enjoy good times with friends and family and often prefer grabbing a quick bite of Vietnamese food during lunchtime.

Cafe des Beaux Arts

ABOUT

I had an exciting opportunity to design a brand identity package and website for a new coffee bar in Orlando, Florida founded by John Lee, a passionate barista and coffee enthusiast. The brand's goal was to introduce the art of high-quality hand-craft coffee to the local community, emphasizing the importance of the brewing process, and the time and meaningful conversation spent over a cup of hand-crafted coffee. John was inspired by the Art Deco period and would like the brand to be associated with this era.

To capture Art Deco, which was known for its elegant, sophisticated style, and streamlined designs, I incorporated bold geometric shapes, such as triangles, squares, and circles, into the logo and brand identity. I used a color scheme of gold and navy to evoke a sense of luxury and sophistication, which is synonymous with the Art Deco era.

AUDIENCE

Cafe des Beaux Arts aimed to attract middle-aged, medium to high income individuals who appreciate the art of craft coffee. These individuals lead an energetic and outgoing lifestyle, enjoying spending quality time with acquaintances, friends, and family. They are open to both small talk and in-depth conversation, and often spend time at a coffee shop working, meeting, or simply hanging out during the weekend. Good quality coffee is of particular interest to them. Their living area includes both suburban and metropolitan areas.

COFFEE.
REDEFINED.

OUR STORY

Cafe des Beaux Arts was founded in 2012 by business and coffee enthusiast, John Lee. John wanted to introduce the art of craft coffee to Orlando. He wanted to bring the art of coffee to Orlando. Beautiful. Coffee isn't just a quick fix. Coffee isn't about a happy life and keeping you awake. Drinking coffee is also an art just like other traditional coffee houses.

MISIONS

Our mission is to create a great product that speaks for itself. We take our favorite comfort recipes from our home kitchens and bring them to the Orlando community. We believe that coffee houses are proud to utilize high-quality ingredients in our kitchens and restaurants. Our coffee houses are unique because our culinary teams take pride in creating each one of our products.

COFFEE Refined.

We source high-quality, ethically-minded green coffee beans from around the world (primarily organic, Fair Trade, single origin), which we roast several times a week in our 12-kilo, small-batch Dutch roaster. Our roasting process is designed to ensure maximum flavor and aroma always reaches your cup at peak freshness.

Kim's Produce

Brand Identity

ABOUT

Kim's Produce is a wholesale exotic fruit and vegetable business located in Tampa, Florida. The company's mission is to provide high-quality, fresh produce directly from local farms to local businesses, such as grocery stores and restaurants across Florida. They prioritize building strong relationships with their customers and ensuring customer satisfaction through excellent service and products. Kim's Produce aims to make it easy and convenient for local businesses to access a wide range of fresh, exotic fruits and vegetables that are not commonly found in the area. Their commitment to providing fresh, healthy produce has made them a trusted source for local businesses in Tampa.

My goal was to design a brand identity to help Kim's Produce stand out in the competitive wholesale market. The new brand identity features a tropical, vibrant color scheme with a memorable design that evokes the image of fresh, tropical fruits and vegetables.

AUDIENCE

The target customers of Kim's Produce are local stores and small businesses across Florida that value high-quality, fresh, and exotic fruits and vegetables. These customers are typically looking for unique offerings at a great price that will set them apart from their competitors and attract more customers to their stores.

Neroli Cosmetics

Logo Design - Packaging Design - UI & UX Design

ABOUT

Neroli Cosmetics is a Florida-based startup founded in 2020. The company produces a range of safe and vegan-friendly skincare and body care products such as body soaps, shampoos, and body lotions. They source their main ingredients from local, organic citrus farms to ensure that the products meet the highest standards of quality. The brand's philosophy is centered on respect - for oneself, others, the environment, and the community. This value is at the heart of everything they do. As they launch their online store, they hope to share their philosophy with even more people across the USA.

I was responsible for logo design, packaging design, and designing an aesthetically pleasing and user-friendly online store that reflected the brand's philosophy and values. I conducted extensive user research and testing to ensure that the website provided a smooth and relaxing experience for customers, with easy navigation and optimized for all devices. The successful launch of the website will be measured by growing sales volumes through the website, website traffic, media coverage, and positive feedback from customers.

AUDIENCE

The target audience for this brand is primarily young, educated women aged 18-34 with an annual income of $22,000 - $55,000. They are primarily single and prioritize a healthy, mindful, and active lifestyle. They focus on sustainability, environmentalism, and animal welfare and genuinely care about making a positive impact on the world. These individuals are conscious of their health and the environment, and are passionate about creating a better society.

I have absolutely no body or curl in my hair. NONE! My hair is straight as a string. I don't have to use a straightener! I color my hair as it's 100% white! This shampoo doesn't fade your color, plus the volume and shine is wonderful! ☺

UPDATE: I recently ordered the shampoo/conditioner combo and received 2 conditioners in this new order!

Dhurley405 ★★★★★ Houston, TX | 9/10/2020

I have super sensitive skin even on my scalp. I have tried ever expensive shampoo and conditioner as well as made my own. This is pretty much the only set that doesn't make my scalp itch. And it smells so lovely and clean. When my scalp is bothering me I will wash and leave the shampoo in for a few minutes before rinsing and you can feel the tingle. It manages my hair well the conditioner makes my brush glide through my hair.

asilee ★★★★★ NYC, NY | 8/10/2020

This shampoo smells really good and works really well. When I first started using shampoo I hated the white residue it would leave behind but this doesn't have any and it gives my hair so much volume. No build up residue. I can use it for at least 2-3 days before washing my hair again which is awesome because washing long hair is a pain.

Anonymous ★★★★★ Weynesborough, VA | 7/10/2020

Like I said, I have thick and wavy-to-curly hair. I've bought this product a couple different times, and I've always been pleased with the results. I love the scent, it is minty and clean, but with citrus brightness. The shampoo doesn't have any dyes, which I like. When I use the both of these, my hair dries shiny and curly. Honestly, I let it air dry and it usually ends up looking so good, not frizzy at all, that I don't bother brushing my hair until I go to bed.

Britt B. ★★★★★ Los Angeles, CA | 7/10/2020

I'm currently trying some different products, but when I'm unsure or just want something I know will work, I will use this again.

asilee ★★★★★ NYC, NY | 8/10/2020

This shampoo smells really good and works really well. When I first started using shampoo I hated the white residue it would leave behind but this doesn't have any and it gives my hair so much volume. No build up residue. I can use it for at least 2-3 days before washing my hair again which is awesome because washing long hair is a pain.

Anonymous ★★★★★ Weynesborough, VA | 7/10/2020

Like I said, I have thick and wavy-to-curly hair. I've bought this product a couple different times, and I've always been pleased with the results. I love the scent, it is minty and clean, but with citrus brightness. The shampoo doesn't have any dyes, which I like. When I use the both of these, my hair dries shiny and curly. Honestly, I let it air dry and it usually ends up looking so good, not frizzy at all, that I don't bother brushing my hair until I go to bed.

Britt B. ★★★★★ Los Angeles, CA | 7/10/2020

Was a bit wary purchasing this based on other reviews, but I have been using it for a few months now and have seen no negative results. I really like the scent and this stuff actually makes my hair feel softer than some much more expensive shampoos and conditioners I have used. I think the key is, don't overuse it - meaning, you are only supposed to wash your hair 2 or 3 times per WEEK. Your hair produces natural oils and if you strip them every day by washing it, it will only start to produce more and cause more and more problems. There will be an adjustment time for sure, but you will thank me after a month! I only use this product about 2 times a week and it is good for me, and will last a really long time.

CoastCon Virtuality

Brand Identity - UI & UX Design

ABOUT

IAAPA is well-known in the thrill ride industry for its annual trade show which showcases new thrill rides available to theme parks around the world. However, the industry underwent significant changes in attendance and handling of events due to the global pandemic of 2019-2020. To adapt to this unprecedented situation, IAAPA has launched a new virtual event called CoastCon. This virtual event is designed to showcase exciting new products and experiences that are available in the industry, while also providing opportunities for networking and collaboration.

I worked with two other classmates, Alexus Jenkins, and Sarah Kouch, on this project. Even though the project was originally intended for a larger group, the three of us took on the challenge with enthusiasm and determination. With a tight deadline and a long list of deliverables, we divided the work evenly and collaborated closely to ensure that every aspect of the project was executed to the highest standard. My particular focus was on designing the brand identity package and physical products, as well as creating an intuitive and seamless ticket purchase experience for attendees. I also designed the speakers' and attendees' profile pages, ensuring that it was user-friendly and functional. It was a challenging but incredibly rewarding experience that taught us the value of collaboration, time management, and creative problem-solving.

AUDIENCE

As CoastCon is a virtual show that aims to provide a unique experience for thrill ride enthusiasts and industry professionals, the target audience for the event is theme park enthusiasts, thrill ride manufacturers, theme park owners and operators, industry professionals, and anyone interested in the thrill ride industry. The event also has areas that are open to the general public, so it also attracts a broader audience interested in exploring and learning more about the theme park and thrill ride industry.

Event - Lobby & Show Floor

Our event website is designed to be a hub of excitement and exploration, where attendees can gather their thoughts, plan their next moves, and freely navigate through the offerings. With a user-friendly navigation menu, attendees can easily discover vendors and explore what they have to offer.

Our priority is to ensure that attendees have a seamless experience, with easy access to everything they need to make the most of the event. We understand that attendees are looking forward to discovering new and exciting things, and we are committed to making that experience as smooth and enjoyable as possible.

Meanwhile, vendors can look forward to a high level of engagement from prospective buyers, as attendees are encouraged to explore and discover new products and services. We want vendors to feel confident that they will get the exposure they need to make a successful impact at the event.

Overall, our focus on easy access and navigation is key to the success of our event. We are excited to see attendees and vendors alike engage with the offerings, make meaningful connections, and have a memorable experience.

Event - Store Front

The storefront page is a valuable resource for attendees seeking information on vendors, including their promotions and representatives available for connection. Our goal is for attendees to be well-informed and excited about the businesses featured, while also providing vendors an opportunity to attract prospective buyers through their page.

The screenshot shows the CoastCon Virtuality 2021 storefront page. At the top, there's a teal header with the event logo 'COASTCON VIRTUALITY 2021', social media icons, and a 'LIVE SPEAKER' button. To the right, it says 'OUR EVENT HAS STARTED! 07/01st - 07/31st' and has links for 'SCHEDULE', 'LIVE CHAT', 'BADGES & ACHIEVEMENTS', 'STORE', and 'ACCOUNT'. Below the header, there's a 'GLOBAL VENDOR GROUP PRIVATE' dropdown set to 'GLOBAL'. On the left, a 'Back to Lobby' button is visible. The main content area features a large white sign for 'SOUTHERN COMPANY' with a red triangle logo. To the left of the sign is a small round table with three chairs. To the right is a red circular banner with the text '5 decades of innovation' and some smaller text. Further right are two red rectangular banners: one for 'Bringing energy to homes and businesses across the country' and another for 'SOUTHERN COMPANY'. On the far right, there's a 'PRIVATE CHAT' window showing a conversation between users 'KARLA' and 'Hello!'. The bottom of the page has a dark footer with sections for 'ABOUT', 'EVENT', 'FAQ', and 'SUBSCRIBE TO OUR NEWSLETTER'. It also includes social media links, a phone number (+1 321-319-7600), an email address (IAAPA@IAAPA.org), and copyright information (@2021 CoastCon Virtuality | All rights reserved 4155 West Taft Vineland Road Orlando, FL 32837).

Mẹ's Recipes

Layout Design

ABOUT

In order to challenge myself in publication design, I chose to create a recipe book celebrating my Vietnamese culture and heritage. I wanted to showcase a lesser-known aspect of Vietnamese cuisine beyond the usual dishes of Pho, summer rolls, or Banh-mi. Through this recipe book, I aimed to highlight the unique culture and tradition of Vietnamese family meals, which are simple, easy to cook, and evoke a sense of hominess, gathering, and nostalgia within the Vietnamese community. My goal was to bring this valuable custom closer to Vietnamese descendants around the world, making their daily family meals feel like a "home away from home."

To achieve this, I named the recipe book "Mẹ's Recipes," using the most common word for "mother" in Vietnamese. It delivers love from Vietnamese mothers and the beloved memories of family meals. The book includes sections for Beef, Pork, Chicken, Vegetarian/Vegan, and Desserts, and features recipes collected from Vicky Pham's and Lisa Le's blogs.

AUDIENCE

The target audience is individuals within the age range of 18-30. The majority of this group is either single, dating, or newly married (1-3 years) and has at least a high school diploma education. Their lifestyle is characterized by an energetic and outgoing nature, enjoying good times with friends and family. They are interested in trying and cooking Vietnamese food, as well as connecting with Vietnamese culture and traditions through cuisine. This audience is located in suburban and metropolitan areas.

INTRODUCTION

Hello we are Vicky Pham and Lisa Le, two passionate Vietnamese food bloggers that have been posting Vietnamese home-cooked meals recipes on the internet!

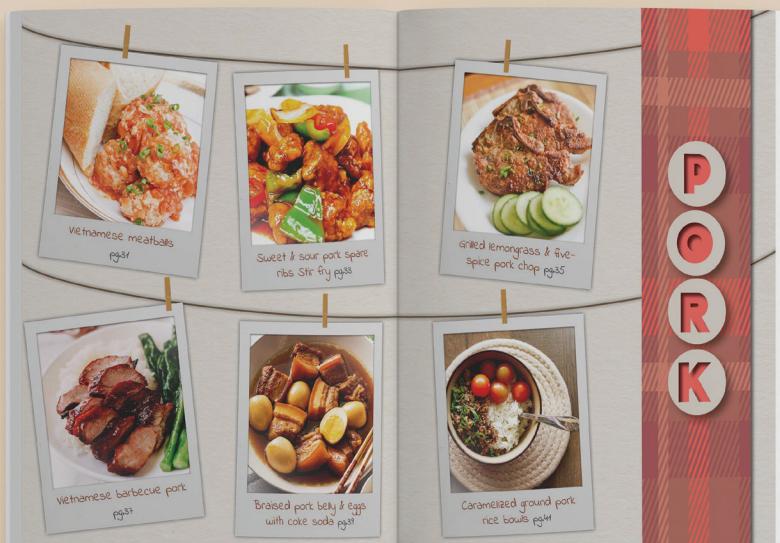

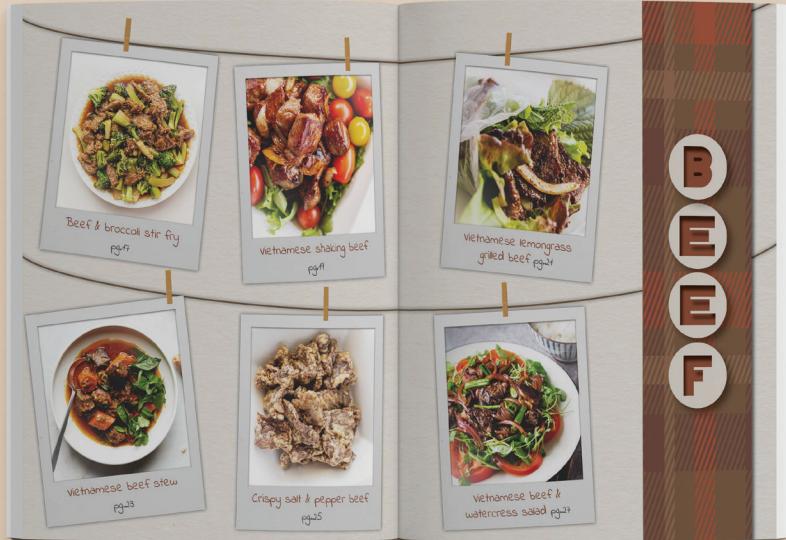

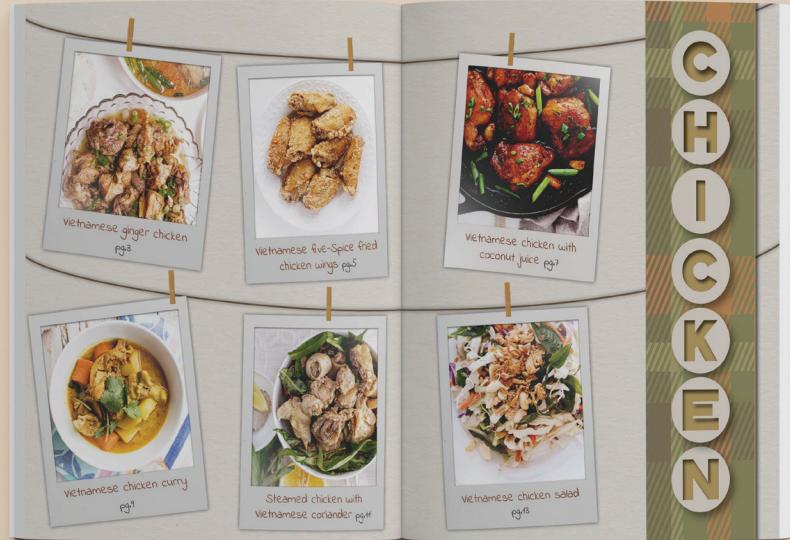

Vietnamese cuisine beautifully encompasses sweet, sour and savory. its reliance to fresh herbs and vegetables makes it one of the healthiest cuisines in the world, and the cuisine that we strive to keep alive in our kitchens.

A Vietnamese family meal is the unique longevity culture and tradition which the local people are so proud of. They are more simple, easy to cook or prep for the week, while still carrying a homely gathering and nostalgic feeling to Vietnamese people.

By publishing a Vietnamese family meals recipe book, we wanted to introduce another side of Vietnamese cuisine that is not only about the summer rolls, or Banh-mi, and as a way to celebrate our Vietnamese culture and heritage, we hope to bring this valuable custom closer to Vietnamese descendants around the world, and to help make their daily family meals "home away from home". Feeling we hope you will enjoy reading this book and may it help you feel closer to our dearest Vietnam homeland.

Vietnamese ginger chicken

One of my favorite Vietnamese flavored dishes is ginger chicken or Gà Chó Giang. It's a simple dish of bone-in chicken (legs, drumsticks or thighs). It's typically served family-style with steamed rice and a vegetable side. This below recipe includes the traditional method of using sugar to caramelize or brown the chicken before braising. This dish is always tastier the next day as the marinade soaks into the chicken more. Double the recipe for a delicious leftovers. The future-hungry you will be thankful.

INGREDIENTS

- 4 lbs bone-in chicken (legs, drumsticks or thighs)
- Salt for washing chicken (4 lbs)
- Marinade
  - 4 lbs chicken stock powder
  - 3 lbs granulated white sugar
  - 1 tsp salt
  - 1/2 tsp black pepper
  - 1/2 lbs lime juice
  - 2 1/2 lbs fish sauce (add later)
- Caramel Color
  - 2 lbs granulated white sugar
- Aromatics
  - 2 lbs vegetable oil
  - 2-inch piece ginger (thumb size, peel and slice into thin strips)
  - 3 garlic cloves (peel and dice)
  - 4 large shallots (peel and dice)
  - 1/2 tsp black pepper
  - 2 lbs chopped green onions

Vietnamese "shaking" beef

The first time I had Vietnamese "Shaking Beef" or Bò Lắc Lắc was in Muine, Vietnam. A beach resort town outside of Saigon/VN Chi Minh city, we were docked to our resort when we pulled over to a random beach-front restaurant to freshen up and fill our bellies. In the beautiful country of Vietnam and in the city of seafood gods, I ordered a hamburger. You live and learn. Luckily my husband ordered "Shaking Beef" and nicely offered me a bite. After one bite of this flavorful Vietnamese dish of seared beef cubes, I issued my hamburger order, set his plate over to me and finished his food like a stealth ninja!

INSTRUCTIONS

1. Chop up chicken into large, 2-inch pieces. Coat the chicken generously with salt. Rub salt into the chicken to give it a good scrubbing. Scrape chicken skin often with a knife if needed. Rinse with cold running water then drain dry.
2. Marinate chicken with chicken stock powder, sugar, salt, MSG and black pepper for at least 45 minutes. Fish sauce will be added later to subdue the fishy smell.
3. Make the caramel sauce. To a large skillet with a lid, add sugar and heat on medium high, wait until sugar melts and caramelize to a dark amber color. Sugar will burn quickly with lots of smoke. Once to do this outside if possible. Do not walk away. Wait until sugar caramelize to dark amber, not black. Immediately add marinated chicken. Toss chicken with caramel sauce to get a nice brown color. Remove chicken from skillet and set aside.
4. To the now empty skillet, add vegetable oil and heat on medium-high. Add shallots first. Toss until fragrant. Add ginger next. Toss until fragrant. Lastly, add garlic. Toss until fragrant.
5. Add chicken to the aromatics in the skillet. Toss until coated. Add fish sauce and toss until evenly coated. Cover skillet with a lid for 10 minutes and reduce heat to a low simmer. After 10 minutes, remove the lid and continue to cook for an additional 5-10 minutes until liquid is mostly evaporated.
6. Garnish with a dash of black pepper and a sprinkle of chopped cilantro. Serve with steamed rice for a full meal.

Vietnamese mung bean dumplings

Banh fl Tròn - Vietnamese Mung Bean Dumplings are traditional and simple Vietnamese dumplings. My grandmother and I made them for the first time together after we had some excess mung bean mixture from making view years' rice cakes. She taught me how to make the dough, how to cook the mung beans, how to pinch off the excess dough so that the dumplings weren't too goopy.

My grandmother has taught me not only the cuisine, but also just living around her I learn more about the culture. The Vietnamese traditional values, as old school as they are, are down to being a strong independent woman and to support your family.

INGREDIENTS

- Filling
  - 2 lbs (450g) mung beans
  - 1/2 cup vegetable oil
  - 1/2 medium onion sliced
  - 1/2 tsp black pepper
- Green onion oil
  - 3 stalks green onions, chopped, white part only discarded
  - 1/4 cup vegetable oil
- Dough
  - 1 1/2 lbs glutinous rice flour
  - 1 tsp salt
  - 1/2 cups warm water

⌚ 10 minutes | ⚡ 8 people

VEGETARIAN

INSTRUCTIONS

1. Soak mung beans for two hours in warm water or overnight in cold water, then drain. Transfer to a large pot, add 4 lbs salt and 60 cups water until it's just covered. Bring to a boil, then lower to medium low to simmer, stirring occasionally. Once the water is mostly gone (15-20 minutes), bring down to the lowest heat position and cover, allowing the beans to soak up the remaining water and soften completely. Mash with a potato masher or with the back of a spoon until its the consistency of mashed potatoes.
- To make the onion oil, gently heat 1/2 cup vegetable oil with sliced onions to get the onion flavor. Cook until the onions are soft and falling apart, about 15 minutes. Strain out onion to add to the cooked mung beans. Similarly, make the green onion oil by gently heating the oil then removing from heat (about 3 minutes) for the onions to cool.
- Remove mung beans from heat after 25-30 minutes. Add the shredded onions and 1/2 tsp black pepper. Mix until incorporated. Roll into 1 inch balls and set aside.
- To make the dough, mix together glutinous rice flour, salt and 3 tbsps onion oil. Add water (1/2 cup) a fluid until a dough forms.
- Take about 3-4 tbsps seed cherries of the dough and pinch out to just under 1/4 inch thickness to make 3 inch circles. Wrap the 1 inch bean balls until covered, pinching off any excess dough.
- When the dumplings are all made, cook them by boiling a large pot of water with 1/2 lbs of salt and a tbsp of regular or cloth onion oil. Once at a rolling boil, cook the dumplings in batches, gently stirring occasionally to keep the dumplings from sticking together. Wait until they float to the top for about a minute or two before removing from the water.
- Remove and let cool briefly in a bowl of ice water, then drain. Arrange on a lightly oiled platter. Using the onion oil, and drizzle some onion oil over top so they don't stick together. To serve, add the green onion oil on top with some right on dipping sauce.

Caramelized ground pork rice bowls

If one of your resolutions is to eat out less, a great way to be successful at keeping it is to be prepared by having food ready to go at home. I like to stock up my fridge every week and prep things in advance. To avoid the temptation of grabbing dinner at a restaurant or use takeout, I ensure my freezer is stocked with some type of ground meat (pork, beef, turkey, and chicken) for a quick and easy meal.

ground meat marinates a bit quicker and cooks up a bit faster. For those who have kids or seniors to take care of, it's great because ground meat requires very little chewing!

INGREDIENTS

- ground pork (buy substitute with other ground meat such as chicken, turkey, etc.)
- 1 cup oil (coconut oil recommended)
- 1/2 yellow onion (diced; about 1/2 cup)
- 2 garlic cloves (minced)
- 1/4 cup granulated sugar
- 1/4 tsp ground black pepper
- 2 tbsp fish sauce
- 2 tsp chicken or mushroom bouillon powder
- 1 green onion (optional; sliced)

other ingredients

- Steamed rice
- Sliced vegetables (tomatoes, cucumbers, lettuce, kimchi, and/or other pickled vegetables)

⌚ 15 minutes | ⚡ 4-6 people

PORK

INSTRUCTIONS

- Using a large skillet, heat up vegetable oil on medium high.
- Add diced onion and cook for 2 minutes. Then add garlic and cook for 4 minutes.
- Add ground pork. Cook the pork while breaking it up with a wooden spoon until all liquids are gone (about 3 minutes).
- Add sugar, pepper, fish sauce and bouillon powder. Continue to stir and cook until pork is caramelized (about 3 more minutes).
- Garnish with sliced green onions and serve with steamed rice and vegetables of your choice for a complete meal.

Choy sum & garlic stir fry

Choy sum is a green stalky and leafy vegetable that is common in Asian cooking. It also known as Chinese Broccoli or Chinese Kale. In Vietnamese, it's called Rau Cải Xanh, when the stalk grows older, it turns small yellow blossom, which is very common to see in the supermarket. You can only the presence of the small yellow blossoms to spot choy sum in the supermarket. However, it's best to get them without the blossoms as they are younger and tender.

No meal is complete without a vegetable side dish. For me, I must have some sort of vegetable or just feel better for the day one vegetable that I always pick up at the Asian supermarket that I know is healthy, versatile and we last in the fridge for a couple of days is choy sum. For a quick vegetable side dish on a busy weeknight, I make a simple choy sum and garlic stir-fry (Cai Xao Tau).

INGREDIENTS

- 1 large bunch choy sum (about 1 lb, trim off ends and wash thoroughly)
- 1 tbsp vegetable oil
- 6 cloves garlic (peeled and minced)
- 1/2 tsp sea salt
- 1/2 tsp chicken bouillon powder
- 1/4 tsp sesame oil
- 1/4 tsp ground white pepper
- 1/2 tbsp fried garlic (optional)

⌚ 15 minutes | ⚡ 4-5 people

VEGETARIAN

INSTRUCTIONS

- In a large wok, bring water to a rolling boil and blanch the choy sum for 2-3 minutes.
- Place a colander in the sink and drain the content of the wok into the colander, discarding the water. Rinse blanched choy sum with cold running water to stop the cooking process, then drain dry. Set aside.
- Dry the wok and bring it back to the stove. Add vegetable oil and garlic. Sauté on medium high until golden brown.
- Add blanched choy sum. Season with sea salt, stock powder, sesame oil and white pepper, gently toss until evenly mixed.
- Garnish with fried garlic and serve.

Vietnamese coconut pandan waffles

My mom, sister and I would take a girl trip every once in a while to San Jose, and hang out at Second Century Mall the epicenter of all things Vietnamese. We don't mind for shopping up there, for inexpensive and authentic Vietnamese food at the food court, we would generally go there with wonderful Vietnamese dishes until we cannot eat no more. Below's being the mall, the bakery at the front always us with the sweet aroma of Vietnamese coconut pandan waffles. These waffles are freshly made at the front and we can't help buying the mall without a couple (or 20) of these green waffles to go. These coconut pandan waffles mark the conclusion and highlight of our San Jose trip.
